Unfinished business

Copies of the banquet program were circulated among council members so they could see the final copy. Norma shared with council that she received a call from Congressman Beto O'Rourke's office, to notify her that he would be attending the banquet and addressing the volunteers and their guests. Norma explained the insert that was created to announce Congressman O'Rourke since due to time constraints there was not enough time to include him in the program booklet. Mrs. Hernandez pointed out misspelling of his name on the insert. Norma mentioned she would contact the printers and have them re-done. Norma asked all advisory members to be at the convention center by 9:30a.m the day of the banquet, she distributed free parking passes for them. Mrs. Garcia informed everyone that the color guard had already offered to attend the banquet again next year. Norma mentioned if Congressman O'Rourke was able to stay for the award distribution she would like for him to give out the awards and take pictures with the volunteers, if he is not able to stay she would ask the city reps that attend. Council members discussed the issue of reserving tables so their personal belongings do not get moved. Norma advised them that she would be reserving a total of 4 tables, 2 tables for advisory, 1 table for dignitaries and the last one for the program sponsors. Mrs. Garcia asked if the banquet had every had media coverage and she would try and contact someone about covering the banquet.
